

I was disturbed to learn that you are considering repealing the rules on cross-ownership. Further consolidation of media outlets would limit news reporting in the areas where it occurs. Consolidation would also make it easier for the large corporations that own multiple outlets to avoid media scrutiny and cast themselves in the best possible light. It is important that you preserve the current standards to ensure more varied and critical reporting in local news.